24 of Homeland Security shall—

1           (1) increase the number of chemical screening
2       devices available to U.S. Customs and Border Pro-
3       tection over the number of such devices that are 4       available on the date of the enactment of this Act;
5       and

6           (2) make such additional chemical screening de-
7       vices available to U.S. Customs and Border Protec-
8       tion as the Secretary determines are necessary for 9       U.S. Customs and Border Protection to carry out 10      activities to interdict fentanyl, other synthetic 11      opioids, and other narcotics and psychoactive sub-
12      stances that are illegally imported into the United 13      States, including such substances that are imported
14      through the mail or by an express consignment oper-
15      ator or carrier.

16      (b) PERSONNEL TO INTERPRET DATA.—The Sec-
17      retary shall dedicate the appropriate number of personnel,
18      including scientists, to U.S. Customs and Border Protec-
19      tion so that personnel are available during all operational 20      hours to interpret data collected by chemical screening de-21      vices.
